Your pet will be undergoing general anesthesia plus a surgical procedure today. For the safety of your pet, and in order to recognize any underlying abnormalities your pet may have, we will be performing a pre-surgical blood profile on your pet. This consists of a CBC, which will check blood cells, and an ALT, ALKP, CREA, GLU, TP, and BUN, which will check blood glucose, kidney and liver enzymes. There is an additional charge of $67.26 for these blood tests.

As our pets age their internal organs, especially their kidneys, become less efficient. While under general anesthesia your pet's blood pressure will lower, potentially affecting his/her kidneys. Fluid therapy will prevent this process. Therefore, it is our practice to provide fluid therapy through intravenous catheterization for all patients 7 years of age and older undergoing general anesthesia. This procedure is provided at an additional cost of $50.00.

Note for patients undergoing Dental Prophylaxis: It is difficult to make an exact evaluation of your pet's oral health while they are awake. We may not be aware of the severity of gum disease or the necessity for extractions until your pet is under anesthesia. Extractions will be performed and/or antibiotics will be dispensed when it is deemed medically necessary for your pet's oral health. These procedures will be done at an additional cost.

Pets cannot tell us when they hurt, however, animals feel pain similar to humans. If left untreated, pain may cause more than suffering, it can interfere with the healing process and cause post-surgical complications. For these reasons, post-surgical pain relief will be administered to your pet via an injection and medication will be dispensed for you to give your pet at home. There are additional charges for the injection and medication.

While your pet is under anesthesia, we can provide the following services for your pet in a "no stress" environment. Please check each service that you wish us to perform.
